SEA-Europe Joint Funding Scheme

The Southeast Asia-Europe Joint Funding Scheme for Research and Innovation (JFS) is an instrument for the funding of bi-regional, multi-lateral research and innovation projects. The funding for the projects is provided by funding agencies or ministries at national, regional or local level from Southeast Asia and Europe. Each country funds "their own researchers" according to their own rules and in oney crossing borders".

...t Calls for Proposals are being launched in changing thematic areas which are of interest to the participating joint call in the thematic areas Health and Environment/Climate Change was successfully implemented.

...unched 7 Calls for Proposals on an annual basis covering a wide range of topics in the fields of health, id.

...d under the JFS would last for 3 years and usually costs such as personnel, (small) equipment, consumables, re eligible. Yet, this can vary from funder to funder since the national rules apply.

...activities, JFS also organises several events aiming at fostering scientific cooperation between Southeast Asian ers such as matchmaking events and lab exploration tours. Further, the JFS website operates a partnering tool in identifying matching partners.

...ars, the JFS continues its activities with launching three more Calls for proposals starting with an 8th Call in owed by a 9th Call in 2024 and a 10th Call in 2025. In order to stay updated, we recommend the registration

Partnering Tool Info

Welcome to the Partnering Tool of the Southeast Asia – Europe Joint Funding Scheme (JFS)!

The JFS Partnering Tool aims at linking ambitious researchers and innovators within Southeast Asia, within Europe, between the two regions and even beyond. In order to access the JFS Partnering Tool, just register with your e-mail address and a password.

Browse through existing Researcher Profiles, Project Ideas and Partner Requests!

As soon as you created your account, you will be able to view and search information of those users that published a Researcher Profile under the JFS Partnering Tool. To make sure that there are real people behind the profiles, we approve each Researcher Profile before it will be published in the JFS Partnering Tool. A Researcher Profile provides information about the origin, the affiliation and the specific expertise of a researcher. You may find CVs, publications, information about the working group and detailed descriptions of the field of research or innovation of the researcher. Further, you can browse through Project Ideas linked to the Researcher Profile, e.g. from researchers or innovators that plan to submit a project proposal under one of the open JFS Calls for Proposals. You will also have access to the Partner Requests from those researchers and innovators that are still searching for the right partner to complete their research consortium.

Become part of the network with Your Own Profile!

Once that you are logged in to the JFS Partnering Tool, you will be able to create your own Researcher Profile and add Project Ideas and Partner Requests. The more researchers publish a Researcher Profile, the higher the chances that matching partners can find each other, synergies can be unlocked and new exciting research and innovation activities can be initiated. To protect you from spam, your e-mail contact will be visible only for those users that have an approved Researcher Profile already - just like you can see the e-mail contacts of other users only upon the approval of your Researcher Profile. With your own published Researcher Profile you will be found by researchers and innovators that are looking for your expertise. If you have any questions about the process, let us know through the contact form or write an e-mail to sea_eu_jfs@servicefacility.eu and we are happy to help you.
